

A Health Educator's Guide to Sex Education in Michigan K-12 Schools

Developed with generous funding from the National Institute for Reproductive Health and United Way of Washtenaw County Opportunity Fund

An overview of how sex education content is determined and approved and how you can be an effective health educator in Michigan public schools

What are my requirements as a health educator in Michigan?

Sex ed looks different in every school district in Michigan. It is decided at the district level, not state level

Communicable diseases

- You are required to teach age-appropriate material regarding how diseases like HIV are spread and how to prevent spreading

Training is required for this! Contact your school health coordinator

Get Content Approved

- All sexual education content, other than communicable disease information, must be approved by the district's Sex Education Advisory Board (SEAB) before you can teach it.

If there is something you want to teach, share it with your SEAB!

Sex Education Advisory Board (SEAB)

SEABs must contain the following members -

- Parents of students
- Students
- Educators
- Local clergy
- Community health professionals

YOU can join your SEAB!

What can I teach in my sex education classes?

REQUIRED

Discuss Abstinence

as the only 100% effective method of preventing STIs and pregnancy

Refusal Skills

saying no to sex and not pressuring someone into unwanted touching or sexual activity

Healthy Relationships

what they look like and how to recognize signs of abuse

State Laws

regarding sexuality, age of consent, and teen parenting

PROHIBITED

Contraception Distribution is not permitted on school grounds

You can teach about condoms, but you can't give them to your students

Abortion

cannot be taught as a method of family planning and abortion referrals cannot be made on school grounds

What does a sex education advisory board (SEAB)* do?

*SEABs can be called different things in different districts, so be aware of that when looking for a SEAB in your district. If your district doesn't have one, you can start one!

Establishes sex education program goals and objectives

Reviews and recommends program materials

(that YOU can submit!)

Evaluates, measures, and reports effectiveness of program

How does a SEAB approve sex education content?

Have content recommendations? Submit them to your district's SEAB for review!

SEAB-recommended curricula, materials, and teaching methods used for HIV or sex education offered by a school district must go through the formal approval process:

The purpose of the hearings is to inform the public of the progress of the SEAB and to obtain input regarding proposed changes to sex education curriculum. This is an opportunity for you to show support or give input on the proposed changes!

2 Public Hearings

School Board Approval

What can I do as a health educator to ensure I am following best practices?

>80% of teachers do not feel adequately trained to effectively teach sex education **

Receive adequate training in sex education, as well as facilitating challenging discussions

Learn how to have inclusive and affirming discussions and how to promote a safe and welcoming classroom environment

Establish a positive relationship with members on your district's SEAB and seek review of sex education content often
